STORMED BY LAND AND SEA.

Shafter and Sampson to Use Heavy Guns.

Watson Will Leave Wednesday—Peace Sentiment Growing at Madrid.

MADRID, July 11.—Imparcia says that Government will urge Blanco to placate army so that peace negotiations may be begun before Santiago is captured, Spain thus getting better terms.

KINGSTON, July 11.—The bombardment of Santiago by fleet began at 5:30 Sunday p. m. Brooklyn, Texas and Indiana engaged.

KINGSTON, July 11.—The Norwegian freight Bratten, laden with supplies was captured off Santiago by the Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Army Department has decided to withdraw from the garrison two companies of the Fifth infantry from Dry Tortugas to use as troops in the Porto Rico expedition.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The state department has been notified that the Spanish vessel Montevideo is loading at Vera Cruz presumably for a Cuban port. She carries eight guns and the navy will intercept her.

A senator who just left the White House says the President informed him that the bombardment was going on, both army and navy using heavy guns. No infantry is engaged.

Sampson wires that he will this afternoon send two swift cruisers past forts to inner harbor to assist in the bombardment.

Shafter reports that C. W. Rowell, Twenty-second infantry, was killed in yesterday's engagement and Lieutenant W. J. Lutz, Second infantry, was wounded.

MADRID, July 11.—The peace movement is gaining force but its advocate hesitate to assume the responsibility of government. It is believed the Queen will form a provisional Ministry, with representatives from both Conservatives and Liberals to solve the national difficulties.

WASHINGTON, July 11—10 a. m.—A cablegram from Shafter received between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning said he would resume operations on land and sea at daybreak.

CAMP OFF SANTIAGO, Sunday, July 10.—Shafter said today: "I shall not be surprised if we take Santiago by Wednesday."

WASHINGTON, July 11.—While the War Department denies knowledge that Shafter has continued the bombardment, Secretary Alger says the plan will be to completely surround the city and shell it continually, but avoid assault so as to prevent heavy losses of troops. It is expected to get Watson's fleet off by tomorrow or Wednesday, with the Massachusetts instead of the Iowa.

KINGSTON, July 11.—Sunday bombardment of Santiago ineffective, our missives falling short. Schley said he would try to get in closer on Monday.

PLAYA DE ESTE, July 11.—The Board of Survey which examined the wrecked ships of Admiral Cevera's squadron, reports the Marie Teresa and Cristobol Colon may be saved and made servicable for our navy if prompt action is taken. The board made a three days' examination of the Spanish ships. The cruisers Vizcaya and Admirante Oquindo and the torpedo boats Pluton and Furor are utter wrecks; main batteries of all the ships can be saved. The board made four important recommendations: that no wood be used in the construction of war ships, no torpedoes should be used on fighting ships but rapid fire batteries on battle ships are of supreme importance, and the fire of main batteries should be below protective deck. The Viscaya was blown up by its own torpedoes. Admiral Sampson wired that wrecking outfit already sent to Santiago will be sufficient to save vessels if it is possible. Sixty-one shells were found in the hull of the Admirante Oquindo, 24 in the Viscaya, 30 in the Marie Teresa and 8 in Cristobol Colon.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The French Embassador, who represents Spanish interests, called at the White House and spent an half hour with the President. He refused to be interviewed.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A Washington special says the President, Acting Secretary Moore and the French Embassador are in consultation at the White House on peace terms for Spain.

One of the "Schley" Marines.

Letter From Santiago to T. C. Rowe

T. C. Rowe, an industrious citizen residing at 2851 Shattuck avenue, this city, has just received a letter from his brother, John Rowe, now a marine on the Iowa.

He was in Santiago on June 2d when Hobson forced the channel, and was one who volunteered his services. In speaking of it he says:

"We have just joined Schley's fleet, and were entirely unexpected by our fellow sailors. When they saw us coming you should have heard them yell. A coal steamer arrived after us, so we finished coaling ship, then started for this port. Afterward it was foggy, and when it cleared up we sighted and captured a big Spanish ship and sent it to Key West. After cruising around for a while one of our torpedo boats stole along the shore, and to our surprise and joy discovered the Spanish fleet inside the harbor.

"Word was sent to Admiral Sampson right away. He was coming around the other side of the island, and arrived Wednesday with the New York, Oregon and Mayflower. The Spaniards won't come out to fight, so we steamed as near as we could without sharing the fate of the Maine. Our ship and the Brooklyn fired in over the forts chance shots, but I don't think we hit anything. Tonight we are going to try to sink a steamer, the Merrimac, across the mouth of the harbor. They asked for volunteers today from all the ships, but they are to send only six men altogether. I was one that volunteered from the Iowa.

"We gave the boys from 'Frisco a rousing cheer when the Oregon steamed by. Like ourselves they are fagged out. The heat is something awful and the rainy season has set in. We have had no fresh provisions for six weeks, but we may have Spanish stew one of these days. You must write and give me news, as we get none here, not even a newspaper."

Fanny L. Stanley Laid to Rest.

Fanny L. Stanley, mother of Mr. Stanley, the recent manager of the Scott Coal Company, was buried this afternoon from the family residence at 800 Dwight way. Mrs. Stanley was 58 years of age and died at Ukiah on the 8th. Messrs Brown & Streightif conducted the interment at 1 o'clock.

GLORIOUS TRIBUTE PAID TO M'KINLEY.

Dr. Chapman Speaks in Eloquent Terms.

A Portrayal of the Terrible Crimes of Intemperance—The Presbyterian Church Well Filled.

Dr. Chapman read the President's proclamation in regard to this day of thanksgiving, after which he offered a strong prayer for the country in this time of war, and thanking God for the victories won. The text was Nehemiah iv., 14: "Be ye not afraid of them; remember the Lord which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons and your daughters, your wives and your houses."

He said: "There is no peaceable way in carrying on the Lord's work in the world. Christ came as peacemaker and yet he is called the captain of our salvation.

"The powers of evil are aggressive and we are either in the conflict or a coward. He who tries to live an upright life must fight. It is with us as with Nehimiah. When he was attending to his own business they ridiculed him and we have never outgrown this. There is no time when the good we do is no assailed. The liquor people say if you let it alone it will not hurt you, but that is not true, because I nave let it alone and it has cost me thousands of dollars. It is the most hellish evil on earth and there is no peacable way in getting along with it".

I love to refer to the peace passages in my Bible and I would have it so, but no more can we than to sit by our firesides and have no interest in our soldiers who are fighting in the ranks. It would be a shame to the man whose feet press this free earth and has no interest or money in this war.

In California there are 13,600 saloons. Do you think it is more than we need? Mississippi, which has not the high class of people that California can boast of—there is no better blood, all the wide awake energetic easterners come here, Mississippi which has 80,000 more population than this state, has 377 saloons. Mississippi was in just as bad condition as we are, but they have crushed it down. Mississippi has one saloon to every 3500 people, while we have one to every 99. It takes a string of men one block long to support one saloon in California and 2½ miles to support one in Mississippi. We have no business to sit in our homes while things are in this condition.

While we sleep and wake, the 250,000 saloons in the United States are sending one of their victims into eternity every five minutes, and in most cases according to law. There are 300,000 people in San Francisco, and one saloon to every fifty.

It is not the saloon people that exert the strongest influence in society, and thousands of them are thieves and cutthroats, and yet the most exalted in our nation are slaves to this traffic. Go out to Camp Merritt and ask yourself in the name of God Almighty why the nation placed the camp in the midst of thirty saloons and then allowed fifteen men to carry on that damnable work, to prey upon these boys. One of them remarked that "All hell is let loose on us boys." Why don't the government put its foot down and stamp out these holes with and without their women waiters? They dare not do it, and it is the fault of the church. How is it true that such men and women as are engaged in this business can gain such controlz If the church rise up and utter a righteous howl, but it is so much easier to sit bo out firesides.

It is because the saloon traffic stands undivided that it rules in politics. There are enough of the opposing party to crush it into powder if we would only unite. This is what the anti-saloon league asks. If you don't desire to have the saloon closed then you are not an honest temperance advocate.

The process by which the anti-saloon league proposes to work is to place upon the Australian ballot this issue, that a man can vote for his own candidate and still say whether or no there shall be an open saloon, and let the majority rule. Any one who is opposed to this is not a true American, for that is what our flag means wherever it boats today. Not a man in the rum business will consent to this.

In Ohio in 1888, 332,000 men voted against the saloon and then next year only 22,000 voted with the prohibition; with the plan I present you can still vote with whatever party you desire.

In Oakland the majority of the people are against it and yet we cannot get it out.

There is no place in California that prospers as well as Berkeley. Through all these hard times in has gone steadily forward hundreds of people are saying I am not going to be buried in Oakland where there is the open saloon, but I go to Berkeley to bring up my family.

It was Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and such men that made this country. It was the men aboard the ships and not the ships that have done such grand work within the past few weeks. The grandest, noblest and ablest stateman of the present day is William McKinley, but a little of what the saloon is doing today and we should not have had him.

Burned While Playing.

Little Sarah Petersen, aged 7 years, daughter of Gus Petersen, living at Adeline station was slightly burned yesterday afternoon while playing. Sarah, in companionship with her little sisters and brothers, was burning some grass, enjoying the celebration of the fall of Santiago, when her clothing caught fire in some manner, and her body was enveloped in a mass of parching flames. The noise of the frantic comrades brought the mother who fought heroically for the daughter's life and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, much to the damaging of her own apparel. The little sufferer escaped by fortune from a painful accident only by the work of her mother. The family are alone since Mr. Gus Petersen, the industrious father, left for Alaska, and are perturbed by this interruption of family scenes.

A Serious Accident.

Jack Cowan, while painting in Lancaster Block Saturday evening, fell from a sixteen-foot ladder and dislocated his left hip. Dr. Hoagland was called and after reducing the injury Mr. Cowan was taken to his room in the Frick Block, where he will be confined for a few days.

SOLDIERS PARTAKE OF A ROYAL FEAST.

Berkeleyans at Camp Barrett.

A Pleasant Day With Our Boys in Blue—Berkeley Boys Are in Good Spirits.

Every other soldier looked with envious eyes upon the Berkeley boys in blue at Camp Barrett yesterday. Not only did the generous citizens of Berkeley donate enough delicacies for a royal banquet, but added canned goods, boiled ham, tobacco, and loads of other good things that will last the boys a week. Camp life, with pork and beans, hard tack and coffee, becomes rather monotonous and the Berkeley soldiers feel very grateful to their friends.

It was a ludicrous sight to see the throng in the large tent eating ice cream out of tin cups and using forks when spoons were scarce. The public were given the freedom of the camp, and so interested were they, that although most of them came at 11 o'clock they did not depart until 7.

The Alert company's wagon was indeed precious, when it started for the camp, and it reached its destination safely, being driven by Fred Lockyer. Foreman Ed Florence of the North Berkeley company, John Thomson of the Alert company, and Chief Kenney also accompanied the wagon. A jolly crowd, driven by Frank Jones, also saw that no mishap encountered the load of good things.

The success of the day's enjoyment was principally due to the energetic committee of the two companies and the citizens of the town, who freely donated. Those comprising the committee were: North Berkeley company, Ed Florence, W. J. Murphy and John Hampton; Alert company, John Thompson, George T. Bush, Fred Lockyer, Al Tobin and B. F. Calhoun.

Business and Lunch.

Mrs. Christiana Grodhans of 3233 Ellis street, Lorin, entertained the ladies' society of the Lutheran church last Wednesday afternoon at their regular monthly business meeting. After the business affairs had been disposed of, the hostess served refreshments and the ladies enjoyed a delightful time. Those present were: Madams A. Simon, A. Grunnuelmen, Bruer, Casselbon, Keller, Anderson, Schreiber, Hanebusch and Kohl.

A New Landing Place.

Opening of the Union Ferry Depot Will Please Berkeleyans.

Great inconvenience has been endured by the traveling public for many months at the landing of the ferry at San Francisco, and the clang of hammers and whirr of hoisting machines have contributed a large quota to the deafening noise.

The new Union Ferry depot is an imposing structure, and has been the cause of complimentary remarks to the builders from many European and eastern transients when first observing its frowning towers and well-shaped domes.

It will be thrown open to the public, and the new regime of ferryboats and time schedules will be inaugurated at earliest possible date. Everything contributes to making a most satisfactory ferry system when new schedules and boats are in successful operation, about September 1st.

The removal of the offices of the Southern, Northern and Nort Pacific railroad companies, also station "D" of the postoffice, was in progress yesterday.

The first boat which arrived from Oakland this morning entered the new berth, and the other ferry comnies made their initial trips today.

The Oakland ferryboats, both broad and narrow gauge, will use the lower and upper floors of the depot to receive and discharge their passengers. The Tiburon and Sausalito steamers are not yet ready to receive passengers on the upper deck. The Sausalito boats are now being fitted up to comply with the accommodations of the depot, but the Tiburon steamers will not be ready for some time, if, indeed, the required changes are made at all.

The grand nave which extends the full length of the depot from north to south presents a very fine appearance. A number of handsome palms decorate the center and sides of the promenades, and the names of the various lines are designated in letters of gold. The Sausalito ferry is at the extreme northern end and next to it are the ticket offices of the Tiburon ferry. Then comes the offices of the Southern Pacific, the broad gauge line occupying the center of the depot and the narrow gauge ferry being at the extreme southern end.

Station D of the postoffice is to the north of the main entrance. On Tuesday the demolition of the present station will be begun, and before the end of next week there will be no obstruction to the view of the ferry depot facade. An asphaltum walk will be laid where the postoffice and old ferry buildings now stand and palms and potted plants will line the walk.

The demolition of the present edifices which the ferry offices and station D occupy will be commenced tomorrow, and soon no trace of these antiquated structures, reminding the transient of former glory, will remain, but a handsome new alphaltum walk will give ample room for the tourist to deposit himself and baggage beyond the pandemonium of noise made by the uncourteous and boisterous hackman.

The building has been in process for some eighteen months and is a valuable addition to the architectural beauties of San Francisco, and is a pleasant welcome to all transients.

ALL the Republican papers of Southern California, we believe—if there are exceptions we do not recall them—are opposing the candidacy of Henry T. Gage for governor; and this without any hostility to Mr. Gage, but because they do not believe we could have both governor and senator—and we need the senator more. This is but a natural result of a careful canvass of the gubernatorial situation in the north—Southern California can elect "any old body" to succeed Steve White; but there is one thing settled by the oracles, and just as sure as the "Dutch have Holland" Alameda county will have the governor.

PATRIOTIC zeal often surpasses common sense, and an aspirant to military honors will acquit himself as devoid of common sense. A young man at Redlands, by virtue of shortness of one inch in stature, failed to pass examination. His friends offered consolation by informing him that if he would suspend himself in a harness for a limited space of time he could acquire the coveted height. In compliance he proceeded with the painful operation, but when he had secured the chosen stature he found the time for recruiting had elapsed and now, being chagrined by his unsightly proportions, he is undergoing treatment in a Keeley Cure sanitarium to shorten him—financially and bodily. He will next swallow shot to become heavier that he may join the heavy artillery.

PREFER A NEW MAN.

County politics are already shaping themselves and many new surprises are booked for incumbents. The fight this fall will be a unique one and a precedent for future campaigns. The various delegations are uncommitted and stand impeachably upon the doctrine of the "survival of the fittest." Simply because a man is in the harness in the political regime in no endorsement for his continuancy, for in fact the very matter of his being an "old timer" may be the cause of his political decadence.

The Republicans of Alameda are presenting the interests and qualifications of Victor S. Metcalf as a candidate for Congress in opposition to Mr. Hilborn, whose career in Congress has been signalized by indefatiguable efforts and characterized as representing the interests of Californians.

Mr. Hilborn has been delegated authority to act in affairs devolving upon the Naval Committee, of which he is a member, and has been chosen its chairman in the absence of Mr. Boutelle.

Regardless of the policy pursued by Mr. Hilborn in a few instances, men nominated as his successor must be alive and possessors of more than a private record. Perhaps Mr. Metcalf, the chosen party from Alameda, may possess excellent qualifications for the coveted position, yet there are many things besides ability which will contribute to the securing of the nomination.

A NATIONAL DUTY.

It is a source of gratification to the citizens of a grand and glorious country to recognize that their chief executive is a man who recognizes the entire dependence of the nation upon the God who founded it, and granted it a policy as free from disgrace as the inspired penman who wrote it. In recognition of the aid of almighty Providence who guides the destiny of nations and predestines the supremacy of the cause of liberty and truth, the President asked that yesterday be made a day of national thanksgiving.

The churches and all places of services were well attended by a people who were grateful for the supremacy of right in the last great naval conflict off Santiago, and many memorable sermons were preached pointing the auditors to the history of a nation whose banner floats as a symbol of sacredness to the rights of liberty and mankind.

The primitive thought pervading the establishment of the government is but more vividly portrayed in the policy and conduct of the nation today. Washington, Lincoln and McKinley, the three men called to the nation for a specific purpose, all pointed their citizens to the source from whence all blessings flow.

THE IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Since Uncle Sam has demonstrated his ability to properly occupy the unique position of an important factor in the policy of great powers by his timely and hasty chastisement of the Spaniards, the question has now arisen in the diplomatic circles of corresponding powers, "What is the cause of the superiority of the Anglo-Saxon?"

A prominent French critic has dilated considerably upon the above question, and has elicited many excellent thoughts. M. Demolins, who is editor of the "La Science Sociale," contributes a most interesting article and deals with this question in a candid and masterly manner, and opens his book with a defensive exposition of the right of America to be called the "future dictator of the powers."

In contrasting the progression of the two contending nations—Spain and America—he cites the reader to the histories of South and North America, and in pointing out the characteristics of Anglo-Saxons to predominate, says:

"It is useless to deny the superiority of the Anglo-Saxons. We may be vexed by this superiority, but the fact remains despite our vexation. We cannot go anywhere about the world without meeting Englishmen. Over all our possessions of former times the English or the United States flag now floats. The Anglo-Saxon has supplanted us in North America, which we occupied from Canada to Louisiana; in Mauritius, once called the Isle of France; in Egypt. He dominates America by Canada and the United States."

The supremacy of the flag of the American vessel wherever commerce opens itself for competition—and where it does not it makes its egress whether wanted or otherwise—is noted by the critic who speaks of American flag as a symbol of commercial stimulus. The Anglo-Saxon dictates to the world by his commerce and by his industry, and sustains the policy of his flag by the accuracy and effectiveness of his gunnery

The Anglo-Saxon world is today at the head of that civilization which is most active and progressive, and most devouring. Let this race establish itself in whatsoever quarter and immediately there will be introduced a most prodigious commercial activity.

KANAKA SPEECH AND RELIGION.

How the Islands Were Built Up and How Christianized.

The first task for me, pursuant to my business on the islands, was to learn a little of the language, which deserves a paragraph or two, especially as many native names must appear in the remainder of this article. I found it quite easy of acquirement. Every word and every syllable in every word ends with a vowel, and every vowel is pronounced almost exactly as in German. There is of course a syllable to every vowel, but in ordinary and rapid pronunciation the effect is precisely the same as in German and Spanish—that is, au or ah-oo, is practically pronounced ow, as in "now." Ao is nearly the same, but it is rather more "tony" to pronounce these two distinctly separate. Ai is, similarly, pronounced exactly like long i in line and prime; e as a in fate, i as ee in feel, u as oo in coo and all other letters as in English. When ii follow a vowel, the first i is sounded with that vowel and the second alone. Thus Hawaii is Hah-wy-ee, accented on the second syllable.

It is the consonants which make the trouble. To say that the language has no constant consonants would be scarcely an exaggeration. The vowels are always pronounced clearly and strongly, in many cases with a real lingering sweetness, but not so the consonants. In fact, if a clear voiced talker should omit the consonants entirely, a native would generally understand him. One must listen carefully to distinguish between r and l, between t and k, and so of many other doubles, and in the older works on the islands one finds the names thus spelled indifferently, as taro or kalo, Kilauea or Tirauea, or more commonly Kirauea. Pele, Tele or Kele, etc.

My first lessons were in the "Book of Mormon," my local mentor being a missionary of that persuasion, and this book, unlike most, loses nothing in translation. The spirit of the original could not evaporate, as Max Muller puts it, because in English the book is aptly described as "chloroform in print"—hopelessly dull. Nevertheless the Mormons have done a wonderful work on the islands, and this would be one of their strongest outposts if their converts had not, Kanaka fashion, died off so rapidly. In Utah is an extensive family of Nebekers, cousins, I believe, of the present United States treasurer. One of these did so good a work in Kauai that his most talented converts took his name. After my return to Salt Lake City I heard one of these Kanaka Nebekers deliver an address there in his native tongue which a returned missionary translated, and though by no means an expert in Kanaka I understood enough to realize that that interpreter was a phenomenally brilliant liar.

The American missionaries reached the islands in 1820 and soon had the native speech reduced to a written language. Now every adult Kanaka can read and write. Some 300 books have been published in the language, and the Kanaka journals are read by every one. Bearing in mind the rules above given, the reader will easily see that Oahu is pronounced O-ah-hoo; Maui, Mow-ee; Kilauea, Kee-low-a-ah; Liliuokalani, Lee-lee-oo-oh-ka-la-nee, and so on of all other places and persons. The main island gives a name to the whole group with the addition of Nei (Nay-ee), a word signifying union, or the whole; hence the official designation of the kingdom is Hawaii-Nei.

Hawaii is nearly twice as large as all the other islands together, but Oahu is politically the most important, having the capital and by far the best harbor in the islands, and Kauai is rather the most advanced in agriculture. I did not know the reason of this till I found it out, and I was quite suddenly put in the way of finding it out at Hilo, in Hawaii. It was a perfectly lovely day, and I was writing and lounging by turns when there came a strange quiver; my inkstand danced over the table like a quicksilvered toy man, I felt a sudden nausea, there was a grinding sensation in the very light frame walls, and "subsequent proceedings interested me no more" in that room, for I was in the middle of the street with several other people. It was over in a minute. Then everybody laughed and pointed out that even if one of these houses fell on a fellow it would not hurt him much, for they are very light in structure. Heavy stone buildings are all very well for Oahu and Kauai, and will barely do in Maui and Molokai, but not in Hawaii.

The explanation is, to my mind, very curious. The islands were all built up by volcano and earthquake. Nature began the job at the northwest end of the chain with some small islands, mere rocky peaks, as she moved southeastward she built up successively larger islands, and she is still at it—intends to keep at it, the "rock sharps" say, till she makes a real island continent. While she is building an island it is of course "powerful uneasy and mighty uncertain," but when she has finished it it settles down to a quiet maturity. Hence the comparative steadiness of Oahu and Kauai, hence the instability of Hawaii.

Only five years before my visit there was Pele to pay in that island. (Pele is the native devil of Hawaii, or deviless rather, for it is a female.) For many days together the whole island shook like a giant in an ague fit. The proprietor of the hotel at the Kilauea crater said in a letter to the Honolulu Advertiser that "Pele sent a Rodman 20-inch shot with such precision that it struck the ground within an inch of my bed. I ran and did not return." Nearly all the stone buildings in Hilo were shaken down. The missionaries record with a sort of grim humor that their bookcases were upset and the books went tumbling over the house. Trees swayed and fell, stone fences went down, and vast mountain masses rolled into the sea. One missionary adds, so gravely that we must not suspect him of a joke, that they prayed with unusual fervor and sang—

On Jordan's stormy banks we stand,
And cast a wishful eye.

STATE GRANGE.

The California State Grange, through its Executive Committee at a late meeting, examined into the various accounts of the Grange and made arrangements for holding the next annual meeting on the first Tuesday in October at Oakland. W. W. Greer is president of the Grange.

SWITCHMAN CRUSHED.

Edward Powers, a switchman in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company at the Peralta-street yards, fell under the wheels of a train he was attempting to board Saturday night and was badly hurt.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Charles Kaus, a Southern Pacific brakeman, living at 1109 Willow street, Oakland, died at 11 o'clock Saturday at Fabiola Hospital from injuries received at Port Costa Friday. He fell between two freight cars, and both legs were terribly crushed in the moving train.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

The Union Ferry depot in San Francisco will be thrown open to the public this morning. The first boat of the Southern Pacific to arrive in San Francisco from Oakland this morning went into her new berth and the steamers of the other ferry companies will make their first trips from their new slips.

FIRST GUNS.

The Young Men's Republican League of Alameda county opened the campaign by holding a largely-attended meeting at the San Leandro Town hall Saturday night.

PRACTICAL BENEVOLENCE.

Dr. Coyle of Oakland endeared himself to the hearts of the soldiers at Camp Barrett by addressing them with a special sermon at the Presbyterian Church, where special music was arranged and a unique program carried out.

SORTING THE PLUMS.

At the State convention of the Populists to be held at Sacramento tomorrow, A. A. Bretz of Oakland will be a candidate for Railroad Commissioner. Green Majors may be a candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, and C. S. Preble of Berkeley for Surveyor-General.

INCOME REDUCED.

Owing to the reduction made in assessments by Assessor Dalton, the income of the city will be greatly reduced this year. City Auditor Snow, ex-officio city assessor, will notify the City Council and Board of Education to govern their actions accordingly.

A COSTLY FIGHT.

George Schmidt, the man who gave Officer Jacobus such a fight on last Thursday, was held to answer in the Superior Court on the charge of burglary. Bail was fixed at $3000.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

In the case of Mrs. Catherine Sullivan against Charles Slamberg yesterday, Judge Wood decided in favor of the defendant. Mrs. Sullivan's claim was that she had loaned defendant $120 in 1894 which with interest to date would amount to $151, the amount she sought to recover. An attachment was levied upon Slamberg's wages, but his attorney, W. H. L. Hynes, showed defendant was a man of family, which made the attachment illegal.

A Long Life Ended.

Nicholas Simmons Quackenbush passed peacefully away at 2008 Shattuck avenue this morning. The immediate cause of his death was paralysis. Mr. Quackenbush, who was 84 years of age, leaves a wife and three sons of whom Albert B. and S. S. are contractors in this city. The interment will take place in Mt. View Cemetery next Wednesday.

One More Laurel.

The Colts are gaining an enviable reputation for all the clubs they have had games with lately have evidently been afraid to "show up,'d and we believe they have the "cold feet." The National Stars of San Francisco were to have played the local team yesterday, but as they put in no appearance the Colts won by forfeiture.

The Colts have won nine games out of ten this season, and would ike to get a chance to winmore.

A Fractured Arm.

George, the two-year-old son of Charles Connitt of Lorin, fell from a chair last Thursdry and fractured his arm. WEST BERKELEY BUDGET.

Scientific Contests.

A large house gathered to see the exponents of the "manly art" at the Beacon Athletic Club rooms Saturday evening, and departed well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

The Beacon Athletic Club is an annex of the fire company, and its members comprise many of the West End business men.

The master of ceremonies was Dan McLaughlin, while Paul Nichelmann was time keeper. There were two preliminaries before the event of the evening, the first being between Charles Turner of Stockton and George Jackson of the Yosemite Club of San Francisco. Turner is an old timer and is considered a handy man, one of the best in his class. The honors were generally even, but it was clearly evident that Turner was the better man.

The next event was four rounds between Sidney Rose and George Marston, both of the club. Although Marston had weight to his advantage young Rose was the more skillful. The honors were about even until the fourth round, when Rose sent his opponent to the corner.

Then came the event of the evening, when George McCrossen of the Manhattan Athletic Club and Geo. Baker of San Francisco opened for chances.

John Egan was chosen referee. Baker displayed his superior generalship throughout the fight, and evaded McCrossen's rushes with no apparent effort. The first few rounds were unexciting, but as the bout progressed Baker's supporters grew more hopeful. It was not until the eighth round that Baker became aggressive. He clearly showed is superiority over McCrossen, and the decision was given to that effect.

He Refused to Pay.

A stranger walked into the barber shop of Johnny Gazenago on University avenue yesterday morning, and after receiving a shave and a hair cut, refused to pay the full price for the same. The barber demanded his bill while the stranger wanted a ten cent discount. To preserve peace Jonny gave the man the ten cent piece, but not satisfied the stranger became abusive and started to draw a knife. Mr. Sagmago could stand the abuse no longer and in a short time the pugnacious patron was feeling the blows of the barber's fists. The stranger then concluded that his surroundings were a little to warm and took a hasty departure.

More Consignments.

Captain Oakley of the steamer Hope reports much activity at the wharf. Yesterday a load of sheep came over for F. Carnes of Butchertown. Every morning a large shipment of corn is sent to the city by Chinese gardeners. Niehaus & Co. sent a consignment of doors this morning, which will go to Sydney, Australia. They will be placed on the ocean steamer by the Hope.

Cut by a Saw.

James Cheesewright cut his hand Saturday afternoon at Niehaus planing mill while sawing a board. The board jumped off the saw and threw his right hand in its place, inflicting a deep cut from the forefinger to the wrist.

Dr. Gladding took sixteen stitches to draw the wound together, and it will be some time before Mr. Cheesewright will regain the use of his hand.

Keep your friends informed concerning Berkeley events by sending them the Gazette.

Many people burn the candle of life at both ends. Some men who never go into vicious dissipation use up their energies just as much by overwork or late hours; and nearly all women are compelled by circumstances to use up their vital powers beyond all reason: It may be in housework; or social demands; or the bearing and rearing of children. At any rate the candle of life is too rapidly consumed.

Some people need to have their natural vigor constantly reinforced in the same proportion that it is used up. They need the fortifying help of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a powerful alterative and invigorant of the digestive functions and liver; it cleanses the blood, and makes fresh blood and healthy flesh. Nervous, debilitated women should take it in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which is specially designed for female weakness and nervous troubles.

Mrs. Sallie Kauffman, of Virgil City, Cedar Co., Mo., writes: "I had suffered from displacement of internal organs and female weakness for one year. Had a bearing down sensation and very disagreeable feeling after my second child was born; I could be on my feet only a few minutes until he was six weeks old, then I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I took seven bottles in all. After taking the first bottle I felt much better. I think I am entirely cured of all my troubles. I can do all my work and am on my feet all day. I am in much better health now than I have been in four years; am fleshy and gaining strength very fast."

By writing to Dr. Pierce who is chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. careful professional advice will be obtained free of cost and specially adapted to the individual case. Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page Medical Adviser will be sent free for 21 cents; the cost of postage.

ABRAHAMSON BROS.

ALTERATION SALE NOW IN PROGRESS.

As a rule this is considered the dullest time of the year, but very often circumstances make business, and just now, though we have merely intimated an increase in our store room, and are hard at work preparing our stock for the great reductions in prices, which are going to rule during this sale, our store was crowded with customers eager to take advantage of the many bargains marked out in all directions.

By to-morrow we expect to issue 20,000 pamphlets which will give some idea of our reduced price lists and show how money can be saved just now.

However, these pamphlets do not represent by any means the actual bulk of our stock, but are merely signs which indicate the general tend of prices which is taking place all through the house
